CITFARM

No limits. No distance.

We deliver freshness like it just took its first breath

no fee, no minimum, only trust.

Stays alive 7 to 10 days, constant as the light that raised it.

CITFARM

Microgreens, Shoots and Petite Herbs

PURPLE KOHLRABI

Ruby stems, green veins a flash of metal under the soil. Crunch that fights back.

POPCORN

Fat green tongues of light. They bite like nuts that forgot they were seeds.

BOK CHOY

It stands like a soldier in light sweet stalk, sharp leaf, clean truth.

PEA SALAD

Soft green, sweet like spring breath. It asks for nothing but a drop of oil.

YELLOW BEET

Golden and grounded sweet like a secret kept in the earth.

ARUGULA

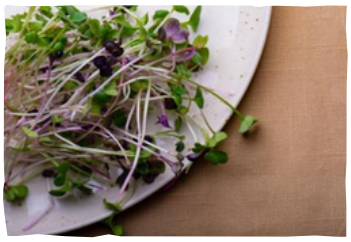
A green that argues. Pepper and fire under silk.

DAIKON RADISH

Sharp as morning air. It doesn't ask it wakes you.

RED RADISH

Pink veins with attitude. It shouts, then smiles.



RAINBOW RADISH

Color that argues with itself each bite another opinion.

CITFARM

Microgreens, Shoots and Petite Herbs

MUSTARD

It burns politely, then laughs. A sting that teaches.

RED CABBAGE

A violet heart that bleeds honesty. Crunch it and it will answers with thunder.

GREEN MIZUNA

Like lace made of lightning soft, bitter, brave.

BROCCOLI

Tiny forests whispering chlorophyll and rain. Steam just enough to make them sing.

SUNFLOWERS

Fat green tongues of light. They bite like nuts that forgot they were seeds.

RED BEET

Red that doesn't apologize. It tastes of iron and sunburn.

CILANTRO

Clean, bold, classic cilantro. Robust pepper and fresh-cut grass finish.

PEA SHOOTS

They climb toward your mouth, crisp and sweet spring refusing to die.

NASTURTIUM

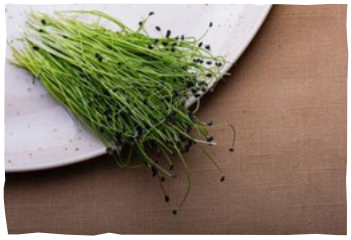
A flower that bites. Pepper with perfume beauty that stings.

CITFARM

Microgreens, Shoots and Petite Herbs

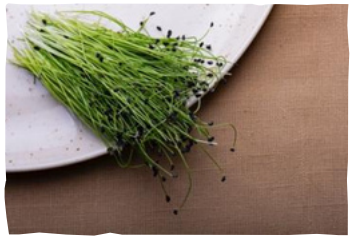
FENNEL

Anise lightning, sweet and dangerous. It perfumes the air like memory.



LEEK

A whisper of onion dressed as grass. Bite and it sighs sweetness.



Garlic

It doesn't hide. It declares war and somehow wins you over.

GARDEN BLEND

Green sweetness meets nut and fire: peas sing, sunflowers hum, radish bites back.

ASIAN BLEND

Four greens in quiet conflict soft leaves, sharp roots, a whisper that ends in fire.

CILANTRO

It cuts like a blade of sun. Bright, grassy, and unapologetically alive.

Spicy BLEND

Three tempers arguing over the flame pepper, heat, and attitude. The mouth listens.

AMARANTH

Garnet smoke in your fingers. It tastes like silence before a storm.

CARROT

Orange sugar pulled from the dirt it still smells of rain.